

OBJECTIVE

In recent times, research activities in diverse fields of chemistry have evoked enormous general interest and occupied much pace in broad areas of science. This is because the properties of any particular material can now be controlled and tailored according to our need in a particular field or discipline. This trend of research will open the vast possibilities and alternatives in the coming days, from which suitable materials required for our sustainable development, can be searched out.

From this perspective, the Department of Chemistry of Jadavpur University is organizing a National Seminar on 'Chemical Sciences: Today and Tomorrow'. The seminar would like to focus on various aspects of recent and possible future activities in chemical sciences.

We would like to welcome enthusiastic participation from Scientists, Teaching and Research Scholar Communities from various college, universities and research institutions.

Guidelines for abstract preparation

- (1) Use an A4 size format. Do not exceed one page!
- (2) The margins are Top: 0.8 inch, Bottom: 0.8 inch, Left: 0.8 inch and Right: 0.8 inch.. Pages should not contain page numbers or footlines.
- (3) The body should be written with 10 pt. Times New Roman, 0.5 inch first line indent, single-line spacing in a one column format. Greek symbols are also acceptable. Figures, equations, tables, photos, images or references can be included if necessary. You can also split the body into sections. But bear in mind that the print version of your abstract is in black and white which may make colored lines difficult to distinguish.
- (4) The list of references should be alphabetized by the last names of the first author of each.
 - Journal article: A. Bedef, G. Hijkl, and M. Nopqr. J. Am. Chem. Soc., 1234, 123, 12345–67890.

Final preparation of the Abstract

Save your file in Microsoft Word format (docx) and send it. DO NOT send a PDF file of your One-Page Abstract for editing reasons.

Submission

Send the abstract up to March 04, 2019:
